Distance Learning Education Programs

Denali National Park and Preserve is an environment of extreme temperatures, tall mountains, glacial landscapes, and more. The climate and landscape of Denali might be very different from where you live. Do you wish you could bring your class to Denali? If we're far from you, take part in the next best thing by bringing Denali to your classroom!

The Education staff at the Murie Science and Learning Center (MSLC) at Denali National Park and Preserve have created free, interactive classroom presentations that you and your students can participate in using Skype on the internet. If you would like to use the Denali experience to enhance your curriculum, please see our offerings below. Once you have selected a program, fill out a registration form to schedule your group(s). Our programs are designed to meet national teaching standards and are appropriate for students in grades 3 - 6.

Registration and teaching materials are available at www.nps.gov/dena/forteachers/learning

Title	Grade Level	Length	Description
The Science of Sled Dogs	Grades 3–5	50-60 min.	Students explore adaptations that make Denali's sled dogs well-suited to living and working in subarctic winter conditions.
Denali: The High One ( Geology of the Mountain )	Grades 4–6	50-60 min.	Students explore the dynamic geologic processes that have created the tallest mountain in North America.
